60 Melodic Etudes

for Acoustic and Electric Bass

I would like to thank God, my wife Sachi, and my daughters—Gracie and Bella, and all the other members of my family especially my brother Thomas, my Mom and Dad, and sisters. Thanks are also due to Chris Poehler, David Baker and all of the other teachers I have had in my musical journey to this point (whose names could take up as many pages as this book). Thanks also to the many musicians I have worked with who have inspired me and taught me (another very long list) and to Sandy Feldstein and John Castellano for urging me to write this book.

Special Thanks to Mindy Sax, for the preliminary music copying.

Finally, thanks also to all the folks at Carl Fischer for the fine work and support, especially Alex Teploff.

are available on the fingerboard. The second book contains a more comprehensive knowledge of the instrument.

If you have a teacher—which I feel is extremely important—he may want to write down ideas for you as well. Also, as you vary the tempo of each study, you may have to alter fingerings and bowings.

In closing, I sincerely hope and believe that this book will help you grow as a musician and be a useful tool for many years to come.

John Patitucci Biography

John Patitucci has been at the forefront of the jazz world for the last twenty years and active in all styles of music. He is a two-time Grammy award winner and has been nominated eleven times. He has won many magazine polls and awards as a double bassist and bass guitarist, most recently as a member of the Wayne Shorter Quartet which won the 2003 Downbeat critics' poll for Best Acoustic Jazz Group and Best Jazz Recoding for Footprints - Live!. He has performed and/or recorded with jazz giants such as Dizzy Gillespie, Wayne Shorter, Herbie Hancock, Chick Corea, Stan Getz, Freddie Hubbard, Roy Haynes, Wynton Marsalis, Michael Brecker, John Scofield, Joe Lovano, Kenny Garrett, Victor Feldman and countless others.

John has been active as a composer with eleven solo recordings of his own. He has also been commissioned to write for various chamber music groups, most recently the New York-based string quartet Elements. John was nominated for a Grammy in 2003 for Best Instrumental Arrangement Accompanying a Vocal for his arrangement of In the Bleak Midwinter from his CD Song, Stories and Spirituals. He was nominated for a Grammy in 2002 for Best Instrumental Composition for a piece entitled Communion that featured Branford Marsalis, Brad Mehldau and violist Lawrence Dutton of the Emerson String Quartet.

Mr. Patitucci has been involved in education for many years, writing books, making instructional videos and giving master classes around the world. He was formerly the Artistic Director of The Bass Collective, a specialized school in New York. In 2002, he began teaching at The City College of New York (CUNY) and was named Associate Professor of Music there in 2003.

C Major Scale

Foreword

This book is designed for acoustic bassists, electric bassists and cellists who want to:

- Improve their knowledge of the fingerboard.
- Practice interpreting and phrasing melodies.
- Improve their intonation and time.
- Learn to play with more flexible time by practicing rubato passages.
- Strengthen their ears to hear the five basic chord sounds within the diatonic major scale: major 7, minor 7, dominant 7, minor 7 $\flat$ 5 and major 7 $\sharp$ 11.
- Learn to hear and use various diatonic modes and scales against these five basic chords: Major, Dorian, Phrygian, Lydian, Mixolydian, Aeolian, and Locrian.
- Gain valuable experience on the use of the melodic-minor scale over the minor-seventh  $\flat$ 5 chord.

As far as I know, this is the first book to have a separate melodic etude for each of these five chord sounds in all twelve keys. I also left room on a few occasions for you to try your hand at improvising for a few measures within an etude. The etudes have tempo markings, but should be practiced at different tempos and even rubato (i.e., elastic and flexible time with room for speeding up and slowing down to enhance the freedom of the artist's expression). These etudes also help the bassist and cellist tackle the common technical problems that all must deal with, such as shifting on one string, string crossing and alternating right-hand plucking and bowing. For acoustic bassists and cellists, every etude can be played pizzicato and/or arco. I deliberately shied away from providing fingerings and bowings because I would rather you explore many alternatives for each passage.

In Part II of the book (pp. 69–128), I have included a complete fingering chart for both acoustic and electric bass for all the scales. The scale examples are given in two ways: 1) Starting on the root note and 2) starting on the lowest note available on the fingerboard. The second example is provided to foster a more comprehensive knowledge of the instrument.

If you have a teacher—which I feel is extremely important—s/he may want to write down ideas for you as well. Also, as you vary the tempo of each etude, you may have to alter fingerings and bowings.

In closing, I sincerely hope and believe that this book will help you grow as a musician and be a useful tool for many years to come.

Part I:

60 Melodic Etudes

As I said, this is the first book to have a separate melodic etude for each of the twelve major and minor scales. I also left room for a few techniques for you to try and learn as you progress. For a few minutes within an etude, the etudes have tempo markings. You should be placed in different tempos and even have the etudes and the etudes with room for learning up and down. I want to remind the readers of the etudes' importance. These etudes also help the reader to learn the common technical skills that all musicians must deal with. Each etude is written on one staff, with a treble and a bass right-hand etude and a left-hand etude. For etudes, practice and learn the etudes can be played together and/or apart. I deliberately placed away from providing fingerings and bowings because I would rather you explore many alternatives for each passage.

In Part II of the book (pp. 65-138), I have included a complete fingering chart for both etudes and etudes for all the scales. The scale examples are given in two ways: 1) starting on the root note and 2) starting on the lowest note available on the instrument. The second example is provided to foster a more comprehensive knowledge of the instrument.

If you have a teacher, which I feel is extremely important, after they want to write down ideas for you as well. Also, as you work the tempo of each etude, you may have to alter fingerings and bowings.

In closing, I sincerely hope and believe that this book will help you grow as a musician and be a useful tool for many years to come.

The musical score is written in bass clef with a key signature of two flats (B♭ and E♭) and a 4/4 time signature. It consists of eight staves of music. The first staff begins with a tempo marking of ♩ = 86. The music is primarily composed of eighth and sixteenth notes, with many triplets indicated by a '3' over the notes. The piece is divided into measures, with measure numbers 6, 10, 15, 20, 24, 28, and 31 marked at the beginning of their respective staves. At measure 20, there is a section marked '8va' (octave up) and 'loco' (loco playing), indicated by a dashed line and the word 'loco' above the staff. The score concludes with a double bar line at the end of the eighth staff.
